RE: Cancellation of December Meetings

As you may know, two very important events will be taking place on the day that our Executive Committee and Council of Delegates meetings are scheduled, Thursday, December 12th. One is a "community meeting" scheduled at WNED (a small venue, for which you need to go on line for tickets and have to submit your question in advance) and the other is a protest rally being organized by parents outside WNED at the same time. We will be sending out more information on the parent rally.

Since many teachers have stated they believe it is very important to attend both, we are cancelling the Council of Delegates meeting as the week before winter break would be difficult for most and site availability is limited.

We regret the short notice; however, events moved very quickly and we know that you want to make your voice heard.

We ask that the members of the Executive Committee contact the BTF as to their availability on December 17, 18, or whether you would prefer the meeting be cancelled. The next scheduled meeting is January 9, 2014
